OVERDRAFT

FEBRUARY 3, 2019

Patrick Voo

Patrick is a classic wannabe rebel who has his head in the clouds and his feet planted either in his running shoes, on his motorcycle footpegs or on a community theatre stage. He's got the most understanding and patient wife and daughters, and hopes to one day figure out what he's going to be when he grows up.

The Measure of a Moment

Key Scriptures: Psalm 55:16-17; Ecclesiastes 3:1-11; 2 Corinthians 9:8; 2 Peter 3:8

Reflections/Questions:

1. How do you plan out your life? Is it minute by minute? Hour by hour? Day by day? Or do you take some different kind of approach? What seems to work best for you?
2. What things/people/activities do you make time for on a daily basis? How do you determine that they are deserving of this precious resource?
3. Almost everybody wishes that they could tell their younger selves something about how they chose to spend their time ... what do you wish you could tell your younger self?
4. What do you think it means to your life to make time for God? Why would you recommend that anyone do it? And if you recommend it, why aren't you making more time for/with Him?
